

Getting Started with Online Course Facilitation

About This Course

Learn how to effectively facilitate in an online or blended classroom. This course focuses on building facilitation skills in four areas: technical, managerial, social, and pedagogical. This course also covers the skillset required of an effective online facilitator, learning styles and teaching strategies to address them, effective communication in a primarily text-based medium, interactive course components and various instructional strategies, management and organization in the online classroom, and assessment and feedback strategies.

Who Can Benefit from This Course

- Faculty and teachers either new to online/blended facilitation or those who want to sharpen existing skills

What You Will Learn

- Familiarize the differences between online and face-to-face learning
- Explore different learning styles and how to support student learning by understanding how learning style affects your teaching style
- Articulate the principles and best practice of online course facilitation
- Communicate effectively with students through a variety of online tools
- Discover classroom management and organizational strategies for teaching online
- Review assessment in general and explore how to develop effective feedback to meet student learning needs

What to Expect

- Facilitation: This course is facilitated by an instructor.
- Delivery method: This course is an online, asynchronous, self-paced course.
- Enrollment duration: 75 days
- Time commitment: 6-8 hours